1. Introduction & Overview

In general, FULLEYE s.r.o. collects personal information from the following sources:

- Our website
- Communications with our company by telephone, email, etc.
- Our apps

The information we collect is of two types: information which you personally provide, such as via a web form or personal communications (“User-Provided Data”) or which is automatically collected, such as information sent by your web browser or our application (“App Data”).

FULLEYE s.r.o. will use User-Provided Data only for the purpose for which you have provided it, as specified in the applicable web page, application screen, or other medium of communication. For example, if you contact us via a link or form on any of our websites or distribution platforms we will use the information you provide to respond to your request.

Minors (people under the age of 18 in most jurisdictions) must obtain the consent of their parent or guardian before providing any personal information.

App Data does not identify you as a user, nor is App Data associated or stored with your User Data (except when you specifically ask us to do something which requires that combination, such as for troubleshooting).

FULLEYE s.r.o. will use App Data for the purposes above and for other purposes relating to the business of the company, such as (but not limited to) understanding how users make use of our Experiences, evaluating and improving our technology, etc.

FULLEYE s.r.o. does not generally share any personal information and uses appropriate security and technology measures to protect your information. Exceptions and details are listed below.

2. Information Collection

FULLEYE s.r.o. collects and stores User-Provided Data only as that information is explicitly provided or approved by the user. Except for purposes of billing (see below), any payment information, such as credit card, billing or similar information will be treated as User-Provided Data.

FULLEYE s.r.o. collects App Data from your web browser and from your use of our Experiences, which is likely to include some or all of the following: the IP address, current status (including for example processor performance and temperature), technical characteristics of your device, your use of our Experiences (including performance data, your viewing direction and other user behavior) and software. These are examples of the information we may collect; we may collect additional information as our content, software, or analytics develop.

With your explicit consent, we may also collect information about you from social media or other sources, such as Facebook, Twitter, etc. We will treat such information as User-Provided Data and/or App Data under this Policy.
